Sometimes at night I would retreat to my room, look at my school photographs and read poems I had written. Mrs C Buchanan rated it it was amazing Feb 04, Aftersheopenedupabouttherdisabilityshesethighstandardsforherselfan At the age of 14, Lynsey Calderwood suffered a traumatic brain injury that left her physically unmarked but destroyed her memory. I tried to adopt her personality, her likes and dislikes. This is the story, in her own words, of Lynsey's quest to discover her identity and, eventually, to come to terms with her disability.
