We sometimes see a deformed body, fine mind, and sunny disposition in the same individual; or again, a robust body housing a distorted mind and selfish disposition. Its knowledge thereof is of the nature of intuition or instant vision, and its guidance must be in harmony with justice and the divine plan. If they had taught about the law of re-birth instead of the doctrine of reincarnation and if they had presented the Law of Cause and Effect instead of the Law of Karma, we might have had a more general recognition of the truth.

The whole problem of the recovery of past incarnations is one of infinite possibilities. He might be right and if so, intuitively one would know it; but the intuition does not work unless the mind is developed and that has been a lot of the trouble. At the same time, the present widespread distress indicates the extent and success of human unfoldment and is a most hopeful and promising sign.

The body, as we know, disintegrates, and the teaching is that its life-atoms gain experience by transmigrating through the kingdoms of nature.

Or, they may assume difficult and unpleasant tasks, such as voluntary living phrases for us the ancient and true teaching of the Law of Cause and Effect called in the Orient, the Law of Karma.
